Abstract

Detection of HLA-II-DQ Donor-specific Antibody (DSA) in Lung Transplant Recipients (LTRS) Is Associated with Severe Histopathologic Changes and Impaired Graft Survival Even in the Absence of Other DSAs and Positive C4D-immunostaining. (CHEST) 2009

Publications

Escherichia coli Septic Shock Masquerading as ST-Segment Elevation Myocardial Infarction. (POSTGRADUATE MEDICINE) 2009

ARDS from Chlorine Inhalation during a Swimming Pool Accident: A Case Report and Review of the Literature. (JOURNAL OF INTENSIVE CARE MEDICINE) 2008

A 57-Year-Old Man with Abdominal Pain, Jaundice, and a History of Blood Transfusion. (CHEST) 2007

Rajesh V. Babu, MD
Reference List

Articles

Management of Calcium Channel Antagonist Overdose with Hyperinsulinemia-Euglycemia Therapy: Case Series and Review of the Literature. (CASE REPORTS IN CRITICAL CARE) 2012

Abstract/Presentation

VIPoma Presenting as Chronic Watery Diarrhea. 2002

Presentation/Abstract

Babesiosis: A Rare and Potentially Fatal Risk of Blood Transfusion. (CHEST) 2006